WOLCOTT'S SPRECH.

At 13:50 Welcott (Colo.), chairman of the bi-metallic commission, was recognized for a speech. By this time the galleries and the floor were crowded. Wolcott was in fine voice and spoke with only occasional reference to his manuscript. He was accorded the closest attention by his auditors, among whom were many members of the house.

Wolcott reviewed fully the work of the commission, already made public. He spoke of what he termed the "hostile and WOLCOTT'S SPRECH.

Special to The Citizen.

Ash Fork, Arizons, Jan. 17.—Yesterday at about 2 p. in. the timbers in the roof of the tunnel on the Santa Fe Pacific railroad, ten miles east of here, were found by the watchman to be on fire, and the company soon had its engines at both ends of the tunnel fighting it, but the timbers are covered with sheet iron and they could not get water to the fire.

The timbers have been burning twenty hours. The fire is now under control and expect to have the track clear by 5 p. m. to-day.

Sau Francisco, Jan. 17.—President Dole, of Hawaii, landed from the steamship Peru this morning. He was greeted by the Hawaiian consul and a few triends, but there were no representatives of the United States government to formally welcome him.

Dole said: "I do not come to work for annexation. I am merely on a friendly visit to this country and its president.

"I think the sentiment of the people of the island is more than ever in favor of annexation."

THE SURVEYING STOPPED.

Settlers Compel Canal Surveyors to Quitanjunction Issued.

The owners of the property, over which the surveying party of the canal company were to proceed, gathered in large numbers to-day at the place where the crew was about to commence their work and commanded them not to freepass on their land. The surveying party, under Engineer Harroun numbered ten men, and, as they were greatly outnumbered, no resistance was made and there was not a sign of violence. Judge T. C. Guiterres acted as spokesman for the assembled farmers and simply stated that it was their land, and that they had come to see that others did not treepass on it.

With this the surveyors beat a retreat back to the city, and Sheriff Hubbell was notified, who immediately proceeded to the place where the opposition to the ditch were gathered from all sides. He said there were then about 300 men there assembled on horseback.
